Narh Sur Practitioners – Artists Contact List

Narh Sur practitioners are the primary knowledge bearers of this musical tradition. They are responsible for preserving, practicing, and transmitting Narh Sur within their communities, regardless of gender. Their role is crucial in safeguarding cultural heritage, training apprentices, and ensuring the continuity of Narh Sur traditions through performance and informal education.

The ICH Cell has played a key role in supporting these practitioners through extensive research, documentation, and community consultation in the Koh-e-Suleman region. This process included obtaining community consent and engaging stakeholders across seven districts of eastern Balochistan and adjoining areas, including Sibi, Quetta, Qilla Saifullah, Zhob, Barkhan, Kohlu, Dera Bugti, and Taunsa Sharif.
